A Question that Could Change Everything

Not long ago I was reading a blog post by a young woman by the name of Allison Vesterfelt. She asked a poignant question that really got me thinking. The question was: What would you do with your life if you didn't have to worry about money?

That question, she explained, has challenged her to really see things from a different perspective. The first time that question was posed to her she was a grad student, living on a tight budget, funded by a part time job and student loans. Concern about money was part of her daily reality.

How much does that cost? How much will that be? I can't afford it.

What made it worse is that everyone around her didn't seem to have to worry all the time. They had nice apartments and never seemed to grimace at menu prices while eating in restaurants. But she did worry. The truth is, most people do, whether they admit to it or not.

Since that time in grad school, Allison has allowed that question to guide her life in profound ways. She eventually got to the point where she decided not to allow her worry over money keep her from living the one life entrusted to her—holding her back from doing what she wanted to do—who God was calling her to be.

In that process, she says, she learned a lot about money. First, she learned that, if you worry about money when you don't have it, you'll worry about money when you have it. She used to think, as a struggling student, that the only thing that could make her quit worrying about money, was to get more of it. But that wasn't the case.

She finally came to the realization that the worry over money, ultimately, has little to do with circumstances. Despite all of the calculating, obsessing, worrying, the real issues are more than monetary. She also learned that money is a bad motivator and sometimes leads us to do things that aren't good for us...or not do things, as the case sometimes is. Money is a powerful motivator, she says, but not always a good one.

What she suggests is that we "change the way we think about money, and submit ourselves to an economy not driven by dollars but by love, integrity, community and compassion."

In the life of the church, we spend a lot of time wringing our hands, worrying about paying the bills and funding the budget. I often wonder about what it might be like to not worry so much about money; how might that energy that we spend worrying could be better used doing ministry. Maybe an important question that we might ask ourselves, and God, is what would we do as a church if we didn't have to worry about money? If our only limitations were our imaginations, who would we serve? What would we do? How would we go about doing ministry?

I'm incredibly thankful for the people in this church that worry about balancing the budget and paying the bills. And I'm also very grateful for all the people that contribute generously so those folks have the funds to do all that. We are incredibly blessed by the faithfulness and generosity of so many.

As we move forward in ministry, and discern what God is calling us to do and be in the year ahead, may we allow ourselves to wrestle with that question that could change everything: what would we do differently if we didn't have to worry about money?

My sense is that in the answer to that question are the very things God is inviting us to do.

Gratefully and faithfully,

Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman, Senior Minister

How to connect and get involved at UCC

The growing upbeat energy at UCC is contagious and it is truly a wonderful time to be a part of our church. We continue to see the outpouring of your gifts—gifts of time, donations and support—to all of our ministries. As we look ahead to what we can do as a community, the vision of God's unlimited transforming love can be seen. Let's continue this good work into 2019.

With your participation, together, we can continue to live out what God is calling us to be through our Annual Giving Campaign: What Shall We Bring? Through this campaign, we are equipped with the knowledge of how to budget and plan for the upcoming year. This includes so many aspects of our church, most importantly, it is how your money becomes ministry. Our ministries are the culmination of many Christian practices: worshiping, serving, learning and caring. You can read the narrative of this year's budget request in the mailing you have or will soon receive from UCC. You may also access it online at www.universitychristian.org/annual-giving. This link will also take you to the online form to submit your 2019 Estimate of Giving.

We thank you for your generosity and look forward to continuing to live out our mission—living the good news of Jesus Christ with open minds and loving hearts.

We also invite our children and youth to participate and learn about faith-filled stewardship through the What Shall We Bring? campaign. Coin banks are available to collect their giving, found in preschool classes, Journey land classes and in the Arches. Later in the year, there will be a designated time and special moment for the children to bring in their coin boxes.

On a separate note, please accept our apology on any frustrations you came across last month, trying to opt-in to continue to receive the UCC Journal by mail. We have extended the time to opt-in through the end of November. In addition to opting-in electronically, www.universitychristian. org/mail-journal, we are also providing paper forms and drop-off containers in the Gallery, Arches and Front Desk.

Open minds, loving hearts

Programs & Events

Welcome to all things UCC!

We have so many programs and events for everyone to enjoy and participate in throughout the month. Below is a color code to help you quickly navigate whether programs are for: all (all ages and genders), men, women, college, youth, children and so on.

We look forward to seeing you all connecting, growing and serving!

CHILDREN

OCTOBER'S FEATURED EVENTS & PROGRAMS

The following events and programs are highlights; specific to this month.

ANNUAL GIVING CAMPAIGN: WHAT SHALL WE BRING?

October 1-21

The whole congregation of believers was united as one—one heart, one mind! They didn't even claim ownership of their own possessions. No one said, "That's mine, you can't have it." They shared everything. The apostles gave powerful witness to the resurrection of the Master Jesus, and grace was on all of them. —Acts 4:32-33

Our story as a church unfolds in scripture, in the life of Jesus and in the world around us. We live out this story in many ways including: worshiping, learning, serving and connecting. UCC places its financial resources in ways that our congregation can continue to offer ministry and programming—living out God's transforming love in so many faith-filled ways.

During the first three weeks of October, we ask that you prayerfully consider how you will estimate your giving for the year 2019. Your response can be given by filling out the Estimate of Giving form online, www.universitychristian. org/annual-giving, or by dropping off a completed Estimate of Giving card sent to you by mail or found in the Sanctuary pews. You can drop the cards into the marked boxes in the Gallery and by the Front Desk.

MISSION WORTH IT! October 5-8 CONNECT FORT WORTH

This is an opportunity for families and individuals, of all ages, to serve together throughout Fort Worth and learn more about how we can continue to support refugees and immigrant families. We will serve and learn from places like the International Newcomers Academy, Catholic Charities, Texas Refugee Services, and Church World Service. Register Online* Contact: jessica@uccftw.com

SUNDAY SCHOOL SPEAKER—DR. SID O'BRYANT

Sunday, October 7 10:00am | RM 207

Professor, Sid E. O'Bryant, Ph.D.,
Department of Pharmacology &
Neuroscience, University of North Texas Health Science Center, will speak to several adult Sunday school classes about Alzheimer's Disease, research underway and the hope that exists in finding a cause, treatment and a cure. Even if we don't have a direct connection to someone suffering from Alzheimer's it is a frightening disease. Providing facts about Alzheimer's can help our congregation provide the love and support that is needed to those suffering from Alzheimer's and those caring for a loved one.

FIRST SUNDAY FELLOWSHIP LUNCHEON

Sunday, October 7 • 12:00pm Walker Hall

Children 5 and under eat free, ages 6 through college $5 and adults $10 Contact: renee.hoke@uccftw.com.

PET BLESSING

Sunday, October 7 3:00pm | Porte-Cochere

We will gather under the portecochere with our pets for this service of blessing led by Rev. Russ Peterman (though he might bless any pet snakes from a distance!). There will also be a memory table available for you to bring a photograph, toy or other meaningful item to honor those pets who have crossed the rainbow bridge.

SILENT MOVIE NIGHT

Sunday, October 7
Refreshments • 6:30pm | RM 207
Film • 7:00pm | Sanctuary

The UCC Belltower Series is pleased to bring Tom Helms, silent movie organist, back by popular demand. Tom will bring Speedy to life with exciting and humorous original music from the UCC Dan Garland pipe organ. Trained in organ at TCU and the University of Alabama, Tom also did extensive study with silent film organists to capture the style and precision of this demanding art form.

Mark your calendars for this Columbus Day weekend treat – popcorn and laughs for all ages!

CHANCEL CHOIR RETREAT

October 12-13 Woman's Club of Fort Worth

This annual choir retreat provides an opportunity for food, fellowship, and extended rehearsals.

BOAR'S HEAD CAST AND CREW SIGN UP

Sundays, October 14, 21, 28 8:30am-12:15pm | Arches

The Boar's Head and Yule Log
Festival is a medieval interpretation of the story of Christmas. This unique spin on a very special story is played out through a stunning procession
to masterfully composed music.
The Boar's Head Feast, following the second performance of the first festival day, rounds out this holiday experience by adding a yuletide banquet of fine food, good cheer and hearty merriment.

Celebrate our 43rd Boar's Head and Yule Log Festival by being a part of the performing cast or by being a much needed and valued crew member. There is a place for all! By doing so, you participate in the life and mission of UCC, you get to know your fellow members and experience the camaraderie of being part of something great—sharing a wonderful gift with our community and church.

In order to accommodate the greatest number of participants, we ask that you come to the sign up with more than one part in mind. The Boar's Head Cast and Crew list will be released before mid-November. Contact: rachel.ngurukie@uccftw.com

FIRE AND MEAT

Sunday, October 14 • 3:15pm Home of John Andrus

If an afternoon of firing up the grill, having a burger, watching the Dallas Cowboys, and learning about home brew sounds like a pretty good day, then you should join The Guys, our Men's Ministry, for Fire and Meat! The Guys of UCC will be watching the Cowboy game (3:25 kickoff against the Jaguars), learning the ins and outs of home brewing from our very own Tony Allred during halftime, and then grill burgers during the second half. Cost is $12 at the door. Please bring a lawn chair. RSVP by October 12 to john.andrus@wnco.com if you plan on attending.

UCC'S GALLERY REDEDICATION

Sunday, October 21 12:00pm | Gallery
