We Pray for Children

It is that time of year again. With squeaky new shoes and a backpack full of supplies, children of all ages drudge back to class for another year of book reports and pop quizzes.

I would invite and encourage you to pause, for just a moment, and say a prayer for all those who are going back to school this month; for those who are sending their kids off to school—whether it's for kindergarten or off to college; and for the teachers who have one of the most important and least appreciated jobs in our society.

I share with you this prayer, written by Ina Hughes, simply entitled, We Pray for Children

We Pray for Children—who sneak popsicles before supper,

who erase holes in math workbooks,

who can never find their shoes.

And we pray for those who don't bound down the street in a new pair of sneakers,

who are born in places where we wouldn't be caught dead,

who never go to the circus,

who live in an X-rated world.

We pray for children

who bring us sticky kisses and fistfuls of dandelions,

who hug us in a hurry and forget their lunch money.

And we pray for those

who never get dessert,

who have no safe blanket to drag behind them,

who watch their parents watch them die,

who can't find any bread to steal,

who don't have any rooms to clean up,

whose pictures aren't on anybody's dresser,

whose monsters are real.

We pray for children

who spend all their allowance before Tuesday,

who throw tantrums in the grocery store and pick at their food,

who like ghost stories,

who shove dirty clothes under the bed,

who never rinse out the tub,

who get visits from the tooth fairy,

who don't like to be kissed in front of the carpool,

who squirm in church and scream in the phone,

whose tears we sometimes laugh at and

whose smiles can make us cry.

And we pray for those

whose nightmares come in the daytime,

who will eat anything,

who have never seen a dentist,

who aren't spoiled by anybody,

who go to bed hungry and cry themselves to sleep,

who live and move, but have no being.

We pray for children

who want to be carried and for those who must,

for those who we never give up on and

for those who don't get a second chance.

For those we smother with affection and for those who will grab the hand of anybody kind enough to offer it.

I'm thankful for you, University Christian Church, for recognizing that we all belong to one another; that your neighbor's children's education is just as important as your own children's education. Through events like Bag-it Night and our on-going efforts like the Children's Closet, providing mentors who meet weekly with students at Rosemont Elementary, and those getting involved in the Read Fort Worth literacy initiative—we are offering ourselves up to help make their lives better.

May we continue to find ways to move beyond our own walls, to not just pray for the children, but to serve and empower them to thrive in this complicated, dangerous world.

Grace and peace to you,

Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman, Senior Minister

How to connect and get involved at UCC

From the early days when I was in charge of setting the table, I have always enjoyed hanging out in the kitchen after a meal—especially when our extended family gathered. My grandparents' kitchen always seemed too small while final meal preparations were underway. But afterwards, when the men made their way to the front porch to smoke their pipes, the kitchen became a place of laughter and storytelling and recipe sharing as dishes were washed and pots were scrubbed and order returned to the kitchen.

It didn't take me long as an adult to discover that church meals offer the same opportunity. Putting the church kitchen back in order after a fellowship meal is the very best time to make friends as stories are traded and memories shared. Once I became a pastor, that time in the kitchen helped teach me how to provide care for my flock.

I want to invite you to spend some time this fall with us in the Walker Hall Kitchen. You will be part of an awesome team of volunteers. You'll learn tips from talented chefs, sample delicious food, and enjoy quality time in our recently remodeled kitchen. You will laugh a lot. You will make some new friends.

This fall there will be a variety of church meals each month. There will be opportunities to help with lunches and dinners. You can assist in the preparation, serve or clean-up. You will be notified in advance so you can check your calendar. And we will have fun together hanging out in the kitchen.

Getting involved is a piece of cake. Simply contact Pam Reeser at pam@uccftw.com or (817) 926-6631.

—Rev. Renee Hoke, Executive Minister

For high school students, attending prom is a rite of passage. However, the cost of tickets, the perfect outfit, and more can create a financial burden for a family, or even make prom unattainable. That's where Prom Dreams steps in. All area high school students are welcome to visit the boutique and find their perfect dress, jewelry, shoes, and purse—all for free.

Volunteer boutique associates team up with these customers, their friends, and their families to search through the racks and find the perfect look for each one. When a customer falls in love with a dress and comes out from the dressing room to show it off, it lights up the whole boutique.

Serving as Prom Dreams co-chair for the last several years has been an incredibly rewarding experience. From the dedication of the volunteers to the generous dress and accessory donations from the community, it is clear that Prom Dreams holds a special place in many people's hearts. That generosity, paired with the excitement and gratitude of hundreds of customers, reminds me of this ministry's impact in the community each time I step in the boutique.

—Mary Ashley Ray, Co Chair of Prom Dreams

MEAL WITH A MISSION

Seek the sacred

Commit to love

Empower to serve

Join us in Walker Hall for dinner and a focused discussion led by our own Senior Minister, Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman. You will hear where UCC's ministry is headed and share in the vision and opportunities that lie ahead.

- Meals served from 6:00pm–6:30pm
- Focused discussion from 6:30pm–7:30pm
- No RSVP—cost is free

There will be three of these events, occurring monthly from September thru November—each specifically about different segments of our new mission statement:

Seek the sacred

• Sunday, September 8

Commit to love

• Sunday, October 20

Empower to serve

• Sunday, November 17

We'll have baskets along the serving line for those who want to make a donation to cover meal costs. Youth will join us in place of their scheduled Snack Supper.

BELLTOWER SERIES: HYMN FESTIVAL WITH BRADLEY WELCH

Sunday, September 15 • 7:00pm | Sanctuary

UCC's Belltower Series is pleased to present a Hymn Festival featuring organist Bradley Hunter Welch. It will include hymn singing by the entire congregation and special anthem presentations by a combined choir, including UCC's Chancel Choir, First United Methodist Church's Choral Union, and First Presbyterian Church's Chancel Choir.

The festival will feature music and the spoken word centered around the familiar hymn LOBE DEN HERREN "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty".

This event is co-sponsored by the Fort Worth Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. As with all Belltower Series events, Admission is Free. An offering will be collected to support future musical performances at UCC. Bring a friend!

SABBATH IN THE SUBURBS AND BEYOND: FINDING REST, PLAY, RENEWAL AND DELIGHT

Saturday, October 19 • 9:00am | RM 207

"If you call the Sabbath a delight... then you shall take delight in the Lord." Isaiah 58:13-14

God invites us to rest from our work and to be renewed in the gift of holy time. But Sabbath often seems impossible given the demands of modern life: work, chores, errands, and kid activities, not to mention the constant nagging of email, Facebook and text messages. Join us for a day of conversation as we learn more about this ancient gift of Sabbath and how it can transform our lives in powerful ways.

Cost is $10 per person which covers lunch and a copy of the book, Sabbath in the Suburbs.

RSVP to Rev. Jessica Vacketta.

This workshop will be led by MaryAnn McKibben Dana, author of Sabbath in the Suburbs: A Family's Experiment with Holy Time and is funded by The Lily Endowment Clergy Renewal Grant.
